Abraham Lincoln was born in 1809 in northern Kentucky. Abraham had little formal education growing up. He loved to read, so he educated himself. He studied law by reading law books. He became a lawyer in 1837 in Springfield, Lincoln was a gifted speaker. He won national attention for his speeches against slavery during several debates. This led to his nomination for the presidency, which he won in 1860. President Lincoln's election enraged the Southern states and seven of them announced they would leave the U.S. and form their own government. In 1861, Carolina troops fired artillery at Fort Sumter, a U.S. military fort. This began the South Civil War. The war would be the central feature of Lincoln's presidency. Lincoln's goal through the war was to reunite the North, known as the Union, with the South, known as the Confederacy. He issued the liberation announcement in 1863, which signaled freedom for the slaves. Lincoln was reelected in 1864. After four long years, the Union won the Civil War in April 1865. Lincoln's goal to reunite the country had come true, but he would not live to see it. Just six days after the end of the war, on April 15, 1865, President Lincoln was killed by John Wilkes Booth.
