

McGRAW-HILL'S

Conversational American English

A comic strip illustration with a yellow background. It shows three people in conversation. A speech bubble from one person says, "Sorry, but we have to leave now." To the left, there is a faded blue illustration of a man and a woman talking.

Sorry, but we have to leave now.

About This Dictionary

Every language has conventional and much-used ways of expressing even the most commonplace requests, inquiries, or responses. Some of these expressions are idioms or idiomatic. Others are perfectly understandable and literal English, but people unfamiliar with the language may have difficulty formulating them in typical and conventional ways. Derived from NTC's Dictionary of Everyday American English Expressions, this book is a collection of nearly 5,000 such expressions grouped into 464 topics that are listed under 11 major categories of social interaction. New to this reference are extensive illustrations that place numerous expressions in a visual context, facilitating understanding and memorization.

The complete list of major category headings and their topics can be found in the Topic and Situation Index, beginning on page xi. This index can also be used for browsing through the topics. See a complete explanation of how to use this index on page xi. Each of the 464 topics has been assigned a number, and these numbers are the basis of the indexing systems. The numbers appear at the beginning of each topic heading in the body of the book to aid in finding a particular topic.

Using This Dictionary

The meaning of the expressions can be determined from the topic heading. All the expressions under a particular heading convey essentially the same type of information.

- The expressions themselves contain hints and explanations where necessary. For instance, in the expression . . .

I got sidetracked.

sidetracked = detoured; distracted

. . . the equal sign (=) indicates that the word or phrase on the left is defined as the word or phrase on the right.

- In the expression . . .

Can you stay for dinner?

Can you = Would you, Are you able to, Will you

. . . the = indicates that the word or phrase on the left can be replaced by any of the words or phrases on the right.

- In the expression . . .

Get off your high horse. (informal)

= Be less arrogant.

. . . the equal sign (=) at the beginning of the line indicates that a restatement of the entire expression follows.

- In the expression . . .

You and what army? (slang)

. . . the word slang in parentheses indicates the register or usage of the expression. Other similar indicators are Biblical, cliché, euphemistic, folksy, formal, French, German, idiomatic, informal, ironic, Italian, Japanese, jocular, juvenile, Latin, mild oath, mildly vulgar, oath, rude, sarcastic, Spanish, taboo, and vulgar.

- In the expression . . .

Fore!

(said in golfing when the ball is struck)

. . . the information in parentheses explains something about the context in which the expression is used.

Topic and Situation Index

This index includes 11 major category headings, under which the topics for each category appear in boldface type. The specific expression groups for each topic are then presented in the order in which they are found in the list of expressions. A topic number, rather than a page number, is provided after each topic description, indicating where to find that topic in the list.

For instance, if you wanted to find an expression having to do with a pain in the head, you would look under the category Personal Matters for a group of expressions labeled Sickness. Under Sickness you would find the expression group “Describing a pain in the head 326.” Look for “Describing a pain in the head” at number 326 in the list of expressions.

It's as plain as the nose on your face. (jocular)
Do I need to paint you a picture? (informal)
Must I paint you a picture? (informal)
That goes without saying.
Any fool can see it. (informal)

113 Showing disbelief

I find that hard to believe.
Unbelievable.
I find that hard to swallow.
I'll take that with a grain of salt. (cliché)
I remain skeptical.
I'll believe it when I see it.
You can't fool me.
You can't pull the wool over my eyes.
I wasn't born yesterday.

114 Expressing ignorance

Dunno. (informal)
I don't know.
I don't know and I don't care.
I don't have a clue.
I haven't a clue.
I'm clueless.
I don't have the faintest idea.
I haven't the faintest idea.
I haven't the vaguest notion.
I don't have the foggiest notion.
Haven't the foggiest.
Beats me. (informal)

Beats the heck out of me. (informal)
Beats the hell out of me. (mildly vulgar)
Got me beat. (informal)
You got me (there).
Got me stumped. (informal)
Got me.
How would I know?
How should I know?
How the hell should I know? (mildly vulgar)
Like I would know. (informal)
Like I would know? (informal)
I give up. (informal)
Search me. (informal)
Who knows?
Lord knows. (mild oath)
God only knows. (mild oath)

115 Expressing reluctance

I'm afraid not.
'Fraid not.
I'm afraid so.
'Fraid so.
If I must. (formal)
Well, if I have to.
Well, if you insist.
Well, if you really think so.
Well, if you really want me to.
I guess I have no choice in the matter.
It doesn't sound like I have a choice.
We've got no choice.
We have no alternative.
There's no alternative.
I'd rather not.
I'd rather die.
I'd sooner die.

Never in a thousand years.
Not in a million years.
Over my dead body. (informal)

116 Making the best of a bad situation

That's life.
That's the way life is.
That's how it goes.
That's the way it goes.
That's the way the ball bounces. (cliché)
That's the way the cookie crumbles. (cliché)
Things could be worse.
It's not as bad as all that.
Look on the bright(er) side. (cliché)
Make the best of it.
Half a loaf is better than none. (cliché)
It's always darkest before dawn. (cliché)
Every cloud has a silver lining. (cliché)
When life hands you lemons, make lemonade. (cliché)
It's the best we can do under the circumstances.
I wish we could do more.
You did the best you could.
You did the best that could be expected.
You get an A for effort.
The important thing is that you tried.
Winning isn't everything. (cliché)
You can't win them all. (cliché)
It's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game. (cliché)
You made a noble effort.
Truth is stranger than fiction. (cliché)
It was just one of those things. (cliché)
(Don't ask why;) it just is.
Why ask why? (informal)
Who am I to question?
It's for the best. (cliché)

It's all for the best. (cliché)
When God closes a door, He opens a window. (cliché)
Don't let it get you down.
Keep your chin up! (cliché)
Chin up!
Cheer up!
Keep a stiff upper lip. (cliché)
Grin and bear it. (cliché)
Grit your teeth. (cliché)
Take it in stride. (cliché)
Roll with the punches. (cliché)
Accept your fate.
You've made your bed; now lie in it. (cliché)
If at first you don't succeed, try, try again. (cliché)
The important thing is to learn from your mistakes.
The third time's the charm. (cliché)
I'm between a rock and a hard place. (cliché)
I'm between the devil and the deep blue sea. (cliché)
I'm damned if I do and damned if I don't. (mildly vulgar)
You're damned if you do and damned if you don't. (mildly vulgar)

117 Blaming something on fate or destiny

It was destiny.
It was destined to happen.
It's your fate.
It was fated to happen.
It's fate.
It's in the cards.
It's in the stars.
It's the cruel hand of fate.
That's karma.
It's God's will.
It's all in God's plan.
It was meant to be.

Que sera, sera. (Spanish)
= Whatever will be, will be.

What will be, will be.

Whatever will be, will be.

Don't fight it.

You can't fight it.

You can't fight City Hall.

There's nothing you can do about it.

You have to play the hand life deals you.

You've got to play the hand you're dealt.

118 Knowing something after the fact

I should have known.

I should have known better.

If I (only) knew then what I know now ...

If I (just) knew then what I know now ...

If I'd known then what I know now ...

If only I could turn back the hands of time.

If I could only turn back the clock.

It's easy to be wise after the event.

That's easy to say in hindsight.

Hindsight is 20/20.

20/20 = good vision in each eye at twenty feet = hindsight

119 Expressing indifference

I don't care.

I couldn't care less.

I could care less. (informal)

I don't give a damn. (mildly vulgar)

Like I give a damn. (mildly vulgar)

It doesn't matter to me.

Really doesn't matter to me.

Makes no difference to me.

Makes me no difference. (informal)

Makes me no nevermind. (folksy)
Makes no nevermind to me. (folksy)
Either way.
Whichever.
Whatever.
Six of one, half (a) dozen of the other. (informal)
Up to you.
Whatever you prefer.
It's not important.
I guess so.
I guess.
